

FOLKS GOING ABROAD

FIFTY OR MORE INDIANAPOLITANS TO SUMMER IN EUROPE.

Some Will Take Picturesque Rides Through England on Bicycles—Personal Mention.

A small army of Indianapolis people will spend the summer in Europe. Many have gone, this week hosts of others will join them and through the summer months there will be occasional small parties who will leave Hosiendom for the pleasures of Europe and the continent. Bicycles are to be the accompaniment for many of the tourists who expect to take picturesque rides through England. It is said that many of the old Inns that have been made famous in story are again the attraction of visitors since wheeling came in. Stage coaches used to make them a necessity, but the rapid transit of later years has left them far behind and they are to-day just what they were fifty years and more ago. Lovers of English story, in which these Inns are familiar, have planned their trip with a view to going to some of these places. The men have prepared themselves with their bicycle regiments and the women with their suits and a plentiful supply of shirt waists.

Among those who will spend some time in Europe this summer are Mr. and Mrs. William Haerle and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Fiedler, Mr. Walter Aneshensel, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley MacKenzie, Mrs. H. B. Allen, Miss Allen, Mr. W. L. Taylor, Mr. Henry Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coleman, Mrs. Addison Bybee and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jordan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wulshuber, Mr. H. P. Wasson and daughter, Mrs. Albert Fiedler, Miss Fletcher, Miss Myla Coburn, Mr. George F. Mull, Mr. Charles W. Moores, Miss Adelaide Carman, Mrs. Henry Severin, Mr. Henry Severin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Haddock and daughter, Mrs. C. S. Millard, daughter and son, Mr. H. S. Fraser and son, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Beck, Mr. John L. Geiger, Mrs. P. E. Erwin and daughter, and Dr. Elias Easman.

At the stationers' there are some novelties in paper and envelopes that are beautiful. Colored paper is to be in style again, and some new tones have been introduced. An extra large size is affected by the fashionables. The sheets are about twice the size of the common note paper. Paper of this size is in light blue, pink and lavender. The large English handwriting is supposed to be the correct one with which those who use this paper will cover its pages. For those who do not like the large paper, in the ordinary note size the new butter color has the lead, with the monogram in blue, either Indian blue, which is almost black, or the old blue, like that in china. A Hebrew olive is a pretty shade, and the monogram in gold is very effective. There are blue, pink, lavender and white, which is known as highland heather. The latter is a peculiar color, a combination of pink and lavender and a possible darker tone. A paper which will find a place on many a lavender is the one which has a monogram rather a rough surface, like an ironed crepe, and is in the most delicate tints, pearl, pink, blue, lavender and white. The mottled effect also. There is no limit to the style in which one may have stationery marked. There is the monogram at the top of the first page and the monogram at the top of the last page. The paper is decorated with a fine line of gold, and the writer's signature, or not; the name of the place where one resides, the house number or the street, or both, the writer's address, or some other. The mark may be in silver or gold, or the writer's favorite color. There are very few in this city who have their coat of arms. But a few, who take a pride in it. Some women have adopted a design, which they think is a knowledge of the one citizen has a picture of his house on his paper. Some are very luxurious in the design of note paper. It is the most expensive kind, adorned with monogram or initials and perfume. The latter is an old-time story-book fashion, which clings to the white or cream linen paper used only in the shape of paper and envelopes, never in quality or elegance. It is always good form. The colored paper is one of the fancies which endure for a season, but it has been made in a style which commands the attention and admiration of lovers of fine stationery.
